

Online Data Collecting Management

The first link will give you all the information that is needed before you can start to write your own YouTube API. You have to go through several mandatory steps such as requesting an api key before you can start with writing the API.

<https://developers.google.com/youtube/v3/getting-started>

The second link will give you all the information about all the possibilities that this API has to offer. It will tell you how to gather data about videos, channels, comments, playlists etc.

<https://developers.google.com/youtube/v3/docs>